RECEPTION PLANS FOR ROOSEVELT

ation that he is the best loved man in America.

Col. Roosevelt will reach quarantine, in the narrows, exactly at 9 o'clock on the morning of June 13. By using forced draught, if late, or cutting down speed, if early, the time will be exact.

At 8 o'clock the official welcoming fleet will leave the battery, headed by a revenue cutter, which will have on board the 500 members of the reception committee, headed by chairman Cornelius Vanderbilt and William Loebe, Jr., collector of customs and Roosevelt's former private secretary. It is believed that at least 500 craft will follow the cutter down the bay. Reports from shipping headquarters show that every available excursion boat and tug in the harbor has been chartered by Roosevelt admirers, and that at least 100 private yachts will be in line.

Neighbors Going Out.

The naval parade that greets the Kaiser Auguste Victoria at quarantine is expected to outnumber the vessels that took part in the great Hudson-Fulton celebration last October. On one big boat will be the 300 members of the Roosevelt Neighbors' association of Oyster Bay. Another boat will carry 1000 members of the Republican club of New York, headed by president John A. B. Sweeney. Republican clubs from all over the country will be aboard.

The cutter will take her place at the head of the other vessels—now numbered at 1000—and lead the pageant up the Hudson until 33d street is reached. Here the cutter will turn and head down stream, while the remainder of the fleet will continue up the river in reverse, passengers on each of the vessels thus getting a splendid view of Col. Roosevelt on the bridge of the government vessel.

Democrat Will Welcome Him.

The cutter will land at pier 3, the dock department building, on the battery wall. Col. Roosevelt and the members of the reception committee will disembark along a raised walk and proceed to a stand on the sea wall. This stand will accommodate 200 distinguished guests, while roped off about it will be standing room for 3000 people invited persons. The remainder of the Battery park, which will accommodate 200,000 persons, will be thrown open to the public and the police arrangements provide for packing the space.

As soon as Col. Roosevelt reaches the official stand he will be met by mayor W. J. Gaynor, who will welcome him as a fellow citizen. Gaynor is a Democrat and Roosevelt a Republican, but this will not affect the warmth of the greeting. It was Gaynor who led the reception plans. It will be here that in reply to Mayor Gaynor the former president will make his only speech. Some believe he will say something about American politics, though he has given no intimation of the character of his address.

It was first suggested that a parade be formed at Battery and march uptown, to be reviewed by Col. Roosevelt on Fifth avenue. The early demands for places in the line of march indicated that such a parade would reach from the Battery to Harlem and require 16 hours to pass a given spot, so the plan was abandoned and the unique idea adopted of having Mr. Roosevelt do the parading, to be reviewed by the would-be paraders.

SUBMISSION IS THE TROUBLE OF THE DEMOCRATS

der to have any question which is in the nature of a party platform demand voted on by the Democrats at the primary. This will require 33,000 signatures.

Drs. Rankin and Grambell, who have been in charge of the petitions favoring submission, have submitted to the executive committee petitions which they claim are signed by more than 45,000 voters. In the checking up proves this to be true, there is no doubt but what the executive committee will vote to have the ticket headed by the words "For Submission" and "Against Submission." There are a number of the members of the executive committee opposed to having submission voted on, among whom is state chairman Storey, but in view of the terms of the Terrell election law, which makes action mandatory in the presentation of the proper petitions with the proper number of names, there will be no disposition on the part of the committee to act otherwise than the law directs.

To Repudiate Platform. One reason the anti submissionists have of the action is that they believe the various members of the legislature will abide by the instructions of the local constituents on the question and ignore the demands of the state platform.

In fact, in every representative district where the anti submissionists are running, the legislative candidates are running on a platform which pledges them to vote against submission in the Democratic primaries will be known, this gives the men nominated a loop hole to crawl through, for the conventions can adopt a resolution to instruct them to vote against submission and they will be governed by this action.

From this it would appear that the only hope the submissionists have of finally getting the matter through the legislature is to elect sufficient senators and representatives at the fall elections who are pledged to vote for submission.

Gubernatorial Race. But the fact that the submission question will be voted on will have a very great effect on the gubernatorial race. With submission the question of the state will be in the Democratic primaries while many of the anti submissionists will not go in and pledge themselves to support a nominee who may be pledged to support submission. This can have but one effect and that will be to lessen the chances of O. B. Colquhoun being nominated for governor and helping Johnson first and in a lesser degree Davidson and Poindexter in the order mentioned.

The Underlying Motive. This is what probably was the underlying motive of the submissionists in bringing up the question. They look as if it was a piece of political sagacity.

With this victory won at the meeting of the executive committee it looks as if the submissionists would eliminate either Johnson or Poindexter, probably the latter, and unite in their efforts to nominate the man left in the race in the Democratic primaries with a submission plank in the platform.

In such case there seems but little doubt but what next year that the entire state will be called upon to settle the question of whether or not they are in favor of state wide prohibition.

SENTER AND THOMAS TO DEBATE THURSDAY

Dallas, Tex., June 12.—Following an exchange of telegrams between senator E. G. Senter, of Dallas, and H. Bascom Thomas, at Sulphur Springs, Texas, it was decided that their joint debate would take place here Thursday night.

Senter is a candidate for reelection to the state senate. Thomas is seeking the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor. Thomas was expelled from the last legislature for charging that it was swayed by lobbyists and was re-elected.

SINALOA'S EBONY

MAHOGONY FOR RAILWAY TIES

USED FOR FIREWOOD

Mazatlan, Mex., June 12.—Ebony is being extensively used as firewood in the state of Sinaloa. At the Fundicion de Sinaloa, the big foundry and machine works here, great piles of ebony destined for the foundry fireboxes are to be seen. Francisco Uriolaguita, manager of the Fundicion, states that the timber costs eight pesos a cord and that as a fuel it is almost the equal of coal.

At the home of Mr. Uriolaguita here there is a beautifully polished ebony table, made from a log received at the foundry as firewood, and rescued by the manager. For many years ebony has been used as firewood at mines and sugar plants in the state of Sinaloa.

The building of the Southern Pacific extension through Sinaloa has opened sections where big supplies exist, and as a result much of the wood is now being shipped to points where fuel is demanded. Up to this time little or no effort has been made to export Sinaloa ebony. While probably of a quality inferior to that of some of the other ebony producing sections of the world, the Sinaloa wood takes an excellent polish and is unquestionably of commercial importance. Much of the timber is small, but many large trees are found.

At stations along the Southern Pacific extension in Mexico appear posters announcing that the Southern Pacific will purchase ties and specifying the kinds of timber acceptable. Ebony is one of the woods specified. Mahogany is another.

Manager Uriolaguita, of the Fundicion de Sinaloa, has bought a shipment of cedar logs at a rate of 57 pesos per thousand feet. The same day he paid over 70 pesos a thousand feet for saved pine. The cedar came from the coast of the state of Jalisco, and the pine from Oregon.

MADRIZ CAREFUL OF HIS PRISONER

No Harm to Come to Pittman—Estrada Sets Up New Republic.

New Orleans, La., June 12.—Col. Paul Wever, an American who was on the staff of Madriz in Nicaragua, arrived here this morning from Bluefields and left at noon for Beaumont. He says Pittman, the American prisoner, has been shipped away from Bluefields Bluff at Madriz's orders, because of the siege there and fear that harm might befall him.

Gen. Matuy, was among the party of prisoners of which Pittman was one. Wever was chief of staff to Gen. Chamorro.

After issuing a proclamation setting up the independence of an east coast republic in Nicaragua, Gen. Estrada, the insurgent leader, has definitely fixed the boundaries of this division, according to the last edition of the Bluefields American, received Sunday.

The American is Estrada's official paper. The bounds of the proclaimed republic extend the whole length of Nicaragua north and south and from the Caribbean Sea to the San Juan river. This would practically divide Nicaragua in halves.

OAXACA VILLAGE IS WASHED AWAY BY FLOOD

Inhabitants Flee to Hills and From These Watch Destruction of Property.

Oaxaca, Mexico, June 12.—Information has reached here that the town of San Antonio Nahuatlapan has been almost destroyed by a flood. San Antonio Nahuatlapan is a small town whose inhabitants engage in the cultivation of corn, beans, cane and sugar. It is picturesquely situated in a beautiful valley surrounded by mountains and barrancas.

The flood came upon the town suddenly, and the entire population was in danger of being drowned, but all escaped, leaving their property to be destroyed by the waters. The loss is estimated at $50,000, which includes over 1500 head of cattle drowned in the torrent and many houses left in ruins. Fields were also washed away and communication cut off for some time by the destruction of roads.

CATFISH PUMPED FROM DAYTON WELL

Dayton, N. M., June 12.—In pumping from a strong 40 foot place, two miles east of town, a number of fish have been thrown out by the centrifugal pump. The fish, all catfish, are in size from a tiny minnow to a length of six inches, and are so bruised by the pump that most of them die.

This well is one of the strongest ever brought in this vicinity. A No. 5 centrifugal pump and a 15 horse power gasoline engine throw a large volume of water, but the nominal level of water has never been lowered.

It is thought the well taps an underground stream, which may be a cutoff from the Rio Grande river, which is not very far away, and that the small fish are drawn under by the current.

REBATING CHARGED AGAINST STOCKYARDS

Chicago, Ill., June 12.—A bill in equity against the Union Stockyards & Transit company, et al, charging rebating, was filed here today by United States district attorney Sims.

The bill alleges that in agreeing to pay Louis Pfaezler & Sons $50,000 a year to retain it as a factor in business at the stockyard, the company agreed to pay a rebate in restraint of trade and in discrimination of other shippers.
